Attractions that Should NOT be MISSED

Our TOP PICK!!

The Art Institute of Chicago | 111 South Michigan Avenue | (312) 443-3600

One of the great art museums of the world, the Art Institute of Chicago presents a collection spanning 5,000 years of artistic expression. Paintings, prints and drawings, sculptures, photographs, video, textiles, and architectural drawings and fragments are complemented by a year-round schedule of exhibitions. And there's more. The museum presents programs-lectures, workshops, performances, symposia, travel, or courses, every day. From Mini Masters to Elderhostel, there is something for all visitors to do.

Visit often, find your favorites, and make the Art Institute your museum.

Adler Planetarium

1300 S. Lake Shore Dr. | (312) 922-STAR (7827)

The Adler Planetarium and Astronomy Museum was the first planetarium built in the Western Hemisphere and is the oldest in existence today. The Adler was founded and built in 1930 by the philanthropist Max Adler, with the assistance of the first director of the planetarium, Philip Fox. It is located amongst many other world famous museums on the shores of Lake Michigan in Chicago's Museum Campus.

The Adler is home to more than 35,000 square feet of exhibits including scale models of the Solar System, antique astronomical instruments, and interactive displays. The Adler's historical collections of astronomical instruments and rare books are considered among the finest in the world.

The Adler is the only museum in the world with two full-size planetarium theaters.

Baha'i House of Worship

100 Linden Ave. | Wilmette | (847) 853-2300

Found in Wilmette, the Baha'i House of Worship is one of only seven Baha'i temples in the world. Baha'is come from nearly every national, ethnic and religious background and view all the world's major religions as a part of a single, progressive process. This soaring temple features a nine-sided dome (nine is a significant number in the Baha'i faith) surrounded by beautiful fountains and gardens. The Bahai' House of Worship is open to all every day of the year

Brookfield Zoo

8401 31st St | Brookfield | (708) 485-0263

This 200-acre Chicagoland favorite invites visitors to take a walk on the wild side, encountering animals ranging from elegant zebras to the quirky but loveable naked mole rats. Brookfield Zoo also offers amazing experiences with its Wild Encounters program that invites wildlife lovers to experience a bottlenose dolphin training session or try their hand at feeding a colony of Humboldt penguins.

Chicago Botanic Garden

1000 Lake Cook Rd | Glencoe | (847) 835-5440

The Chicago Botanic Garden is operated by the Chicago Horticultural Society, founded 1890, for collections, education, and research. Its ground-breaking was in 1965, with the official opening in 1972. The Chicago Botanic Garden is located minutes away from Ravinia Festival, a world class outdoor music theatre. The Green Bay Trail, which is a walking and bike path leads from the garden to the Ravinia business district. The business district includes stores and restaurants such as Happy Sushi, Ravinia Grill, Sloppy Jo's Lunchroom, Java Love, and Pierro's Pizza.

Today the garden contains some 2.2 million plants representing 8,310 taxa, displayed in landscape settings. One-third of the site is devoted to horticultural display; another third is native habitats; and the remaining third is lakes and facilities.

Frank Lloyd Wright Home and Studio Tour

951 Chicago Ave | Oak Park | (708) 848-1976

Recognized as one of the greatest architects of the 20th century, Frank Lloyd Wright began his career in Oak Park. The Frank Lloyd Wright Home and Studio served as Wright's private residence and workplace from 1889 to 1909. Visitors can explore this legend's home and see how every structure Wright created was informed by his belief that beautifully designed buildings make a difference in our lives.

Frederick C. Robie House

5757 S. Woodlawn Ave. | U of C Campus

Designated by the American Institute of Architects among the Top Ten Buildings of the Century, the Robie House remains a cornerstone of modern functional form.

The home literally started a revolution in architectural design. It is one of Wright's earlier works and one of the very earliest examples of Prairie style. According to the Historical American Buildings Survey, the city of Chicago's Commission on Chicago Architectural Landmarks stated: "The bold interplay of horizontal planes about the chimney mass, and the structurally expressive piers and windows, established a new form of domestic design."

John G. Shedd Aquarium

1200 South Lake Shore Dr. | U of C Museum Campus

The John G. Shedd Aquarium received awards for best exhibit from the Association of Zoos and Aquariums (AZA) for Seahorse Symphony in 1999, Amazon Rising in 2001, and Wild Reef in 2004. Shedd Aquarium is also notable for its architecture. The basic design is taken from classical Greek architecture to match the other structures of the Museum Campus.

The central aquarium building is octagonal, fronted by Doric columns and a formal staircase and topped by a dome. Aquatic motifs are worked in at every opportunity; tortoise shells, dolphins, octopuses, waves, and even the Trident of Poseidon can be found all over the aquarium's exterior and interior. The Oceanarium is done in a more modern style representing the Pacific Northwest, but one that blends with the older part of the building. "Whale Harbor", the Oceanarium's 2 million gallon (7.5 million liter) main tank, is backed by a wall of windows that look out onto Lake Michigan.

John Hancock Observatory

John Hancock Center | 875 N. Michigan Ave. | (312) 751-3680

The Hancock Center's observation facilities compete with the Sears Tower's Skydeck across town. The Hancock Center is in a commercial district, while the Sears Tower is in the financial district. The Hancock Center 94th floor observation deck displays exhibits about the city of Chicago. Maps explain the view in each direction and a special meshed-in area allows the visitors to feel the winds 1,030 feet (314 m) above ground level. The 44th-floor skylobby features America's highest indoor swimming pool.

Kohl Children's Museum

2100 Patriot Blvd | Glenview | (847) 832-6600

"As a leader in demonstrating the role of interactive play in learning, Kohl Children's Museum creates exemplary, developmentally appropriate, hands-on educational experiences for young children in a fun, intimate environment."

Kohl Children's Museum is a hands-on learning laboratory for children ages birth to 8. All of our exhibits and programs are aligned to the Illinois State Learning Standards and are designed to make learning fun and interesting for young children.

Lincoln Park Zoo

2200 N. Cannon Dr. | (312) 742-2000

Lincoln Park Zoo is home to a wide variety of animals. The zoo includes polar bears, penguins, gorillas, reptiles, monkeys, and other species totalling nearly 1,250 animals. Also located in Lincoln Park Zoo is a burr oak tree which dates to 1830, three years before the city was founded. Lincoln Park Zoo is one of two zoos in Chicagoland, the other being Brookfield Zoo; however, Lincoln Park Zoo is the only one within the Chicago city limits and the only one with free admission.

Two sections of Lincoln Park Zoo have been set aside for children.

The Morton Arboretum

4100 Illinois Route 53 | Lisle | (630) 968-0074

More than 3,700 kinds of trees and other plants, beautiful landscapes and gardens, research and education programs and year-round family activities make this 1,700-acre outdoor museum a Chicagoland must-see destination. Kids can explore the interactive Children's Garden, complete with a pond, TreeFinder Grove, a miniature cornfield, a "secret" stream to splash in, and much more. To challenge the mind, the Maze Garden offers a one-acre, living puzzle, fun for kids and adults alike.

Navy Pier

600 E. Grand Ave | (312) 595-7437

Rebuilt in the 1990s, the pier's current layout includes fast-food kiosks, shops, a ballroom, a concert stage, and convention exhibition halls.

Centerpiece attractions include a 150-foot-tall Ferris wheel, an IMAX theater, the Chicago Shakespeare Theater, the Chicago Children's Museum, and the Smith Museum of Stained Glass Windows.

The pier now features a large front lawn showcasing numerous larger-than-life public art sculptures and an interactive dancing fountain. It continues to be used as an embarkation point for tour and excursion boats. One of its most popular yearly attraction is the tall ships Venetian Night festival.

The pier and its grounds encompass more than 50 acres of parks, gardens, shops, restaurants and other entertainment. Navy Pier contains 170,000 total square feet of exhibition space, 50,000 square feet of reception space and 48,000 square feet of meeting room space.

NOTES:

Chicago has spoken: The top 7 Wonders of Chicago

The 1st Wonder is: The Lakefront

One of the top activities is the "Dog Beach" on the North Side. People are able to let their Retrievers and herders run amok along the shore. Then there's the Navy Pier on the east side downtown with a view of the skyline that takes your breath away. And Shakespeare, and a Ferris wheel! On the south shore there's the Cultural Center where the water moves to the sounds of Jazz.

Become one of the million people who flock to the 4th of July fireworks. In the summer, the lake offers respite from the heat and a place of solitude for an early morning run in winter.

The 2nd Wonder is: Wrigley Field

Formerly a working class neighborhood, Wrigleyville, is the neighborhood directly surrounding Wrigley Field along North Clark and West Addison Streets. Wrigleyville features lowrise brick buildings and houses, some with rooftop bleachers colloquially called Wrigley Roofs.

The 3rd Wonder is: The "L"

The 'L' consists of a network of eight heavy rail lines totalling 106.1 route miles (57.1 miles elevated, 36.9 miles surface, and 12.1 miles subway) on over 242.6 miles of double-track rail line with 144 stations. The oldest section dates from 1892. The 'L' primarily serves the city proper plus eight close-in suburbs. Seventeen stations, mainly newer or at outlying locations, include "park-'n'-ride" facilities with a total of more than 6,600 parking spaces. About 15% of the total track length is underground.

NOTES:

The 4th Wonder is: Sears Tower

The Sears Tower is the tallest building in the United States, by the measurement from the ground to its roof.

It was also the tallest Skyscraper in the world until 1998, when Petronas Towers in Kuala Lumpur reached 1,483 ft. Then in 2004, the Petronas Towers were surpassed by Taipei 101 in Taipei Taiwan when it reached 1,671 ft.

The 5th Wonder is: The Water Tower

The Chicago Water Tower is a landmark located at 806 North Michigan Avenue along the Magnificent Mile shopping district of the city.

Located adjacent to Loyola University Chicago's downtown campus, the Chicago Water Tower is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and serves as the Chicago Convention and Tourism Bureau Visitor's Welcome Center.

The tower, built in 1869 by architect William W. Boyington from yellowing Joliet limestone, is 154 feet tall. Inside was a 138 foot high standpipe to hold water. In addition to being used for firefighting, the pressure in the pipe could be regulated to control water surges in the area.

The 6th Wonder is: The University of Chicago

Responsible for 78 Nobel Prize winners (all faculty members, students or researchers), 13 recipients of a MacArthur Fellowship (commonly known as a "genius grant"), 3 Pulitzer Prize winners, 8 recipients of the National Medal of Science, the University of Chicago was founded by another achiever, John D. Rockefeller, along with the American Baptist Educational Society, on land donated by Marshall Field. It has become one of the world's pre-eminent institutions of learning and advancing knowledge. As the school motto notes: Crescat scientia; vita excolatur ("Let knowledge grow; let life be enriched").

The 7th Wonder is: The Museum of Science and Industry

The Museum of Science and Industry was established in 1926 by wealthy Sears, Roebuck & Company chairman Julius Rosenwald, who pledged $3 million to the institution. He eventually donated about $7 million. He also insisted that his name not appear on the building, but nonetheless, for the first few years of the museum's existence, it was known as the Rosenwald Industrial Museum. The name of the museum was later change to the Museum of Science and Industry in 1928.

8th Place is: The Chicago River

In the 1770s, Jean Baptiste Pointe du Sable built his farm on the northern bank of the river near Wolf Point, the first non-Native American settlement of Chicago, and early in the next century Fort Dearborn was built on the southern bank of the river.

9th Place is: Millennium Park

It was Mayor of Chicago Richard M. Daley's ambitious idea to realize that which was originally designed as part of Daniel Burnham's Plan of Chicago, a plan for the future of Chicago created in 1909.

10th Place is: Chicago Blues

The Chicago blues is a form of blues music that developed in Chicago, Illinois by adding electrically amplified guitar, drums, piano, bass guitar and sometimes saxophone to the basic guitar/harmonica Delta blues. The music developed mainly as a result of the "Great Migration" of poor black workers from the South into the industrial cities of the North such as Chicago in particular, in the first half of the twentieth century.

11th Place is: Chicago hot dog

The style, once known as a "Depression sandwich," is generally acknowledged as having originated at Fluky's, a well-known Maxwell Street stand, in 1929.

NOTES:

12th Place is: The Chicago theater scene

Theater is the heart and soul of Chicago with The Goodman Theater (Chicago's oldest currently-active nonprofit organization), Steppenwolf (founded in 1974 by Gary Sinise, Terry Kinney and Jeff Perry in the basement of a church) and Second City (an improvisational comedy troupe started in 1959 and is based in the Old Town). If you're in Chicago, you better be in a Theater!

13th Place is: Lower Wacker Drive

Locals love to surprise their out of town friends with a drive into lower Wacker, a twisting, tunnel-like roadway you'd swear was built for the sole purpose of filming car chases.

14th Place is: Chicago bungalows

The majority of Chicago Bungalows were built between 1910 and 1940. They were typically constructed from brick (sometimes in decorative patterns) and had one and a half stories. At one point, nearly a third of the houses in the Chicago area were bungalows.
